

things that hold other things of divers consistence

foam soap water berries pens papers

papers

need vessels too

to organize life

to put things into a context

this need to go here

this is a place for

random things

things that dont

belong anywhere

have to have a place

too

otherwise they

occupy space

on your desk

your shelf

your table

your bag

somebody elses purse

you dont know whats inside but you can count on a mess in a scale

a form that is made to hold it shapes its content

it defines the contents physical state should it flow or run lentils could get stuck in a too narrow neck

the state of transgression

babies love to mash food

the content of a vessel is less stable

than its outer form

supper structor

support structure

leftovers

discusting

the impact a spoon leaves while its making traces on the glass.

the rests of a dish.

the leftovers

the state of transgression

but im a

grown up

the camera

my defiant agent

that feels bored by having more food

by consumption
